MESSAGE FROM THE SCHOOL CHIEF

"The function of education is to teach one to think intensively and to think critically. Intelligence plus character - that is the goal of true education."

Martin Luther King Jr.

I often return to this quote by Martin Luther King Jr., as it resonates with the core values we uphold at Prasadi Academy. For us, education has always been about nurturing young individuals who can think deeply, question wisely, and act with integrity. Since the establishment of this institution in 1998, we have remained committed to fostering ethical awareness and social responsibility within our learning community. Today, as we celebrate 28 years, we continue to build on this foundation, striving to empower every Prasadian to become a thoughtful, responsible, and compassionate leader of tomorrow.

Prasadi Academy has consistently aimed to set benchmarks in Nepal's educational sector, guided by its vision to be a center of academic excellence that nurtures innovative, morally grounded, and globally competent individuals prepared to lead and serve in a rapidly changing world. I am proud to share that in the current academic session, Prasadi Academy students secured the highest number of NEB Grade XII top positions nationwide, with a GPA of 3.96, reflecting the strength of our academic culture.

Achievements of this scale are the result of collective effort. It truly takes a shared commitment to move mountains, and I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our dedicated academic faculty, teachers, morning-shift and day-shift in-charges, administrative team, auxiliary staff, and every member of the Prasadi family whose diligence and perseverance contribute to our continued success.

I am exceptionally proud of our students for their enthusiasm and commitment to learning and growth. Special appreciation goes to our Indira Voice Club (IVC), whose leadership and initiatives have inspired many and enriched our school community. Thank you very much for playing an integral part in bringing this school souvenir to life. Every year, before the magazine goes to publication, I make sure to visit every page and read it carefully. Each time, I am moved by the love and the sense of gratitude our students hold for their friendships, teachers, and institution.

Dear readers, I hope you will enjoy reading what our team has created. A big thank you to our Editorial Board for their hard work and passion in curating this beautiful collection. May this magazine continue to inspire pride, reflection, and a shared commitment to excellence among all Prasadians.

With regards,

Bikram Rai
Chief

Two Years of Us

Two years—just a number, but so much more:
Laughter, lessons, friendships, and memories.
The chaos of exams, the stress, the grind,
Messy notes, last-minute prep, but we didn't mind.

The pressure we faced, the stress we felt,
But we still found ways to enjoy and melt.
Even with rules holding us tight,
We still found a way to make it right.

The talks we had, the jokes we shared,
The warmth of friends who always cared.
Sharing popcorn, laughing till we choked,
Silly jokes only we ever spoke.

Those crazy dances at the picnic ground,
Music loud, we all spun around.
Enjoyed each other's song without knowing the lyrics,
Dancing with hearts full, as if we all belonged.

Years may pass, but these moments stay;
In our hearts, they'll never fade away.
In every smile, in every cheer,
These two years will always be near.

Bharosa Pande, O5

Chapter 17

A book rests quiet, until it lands on a writer.
From page 1 it starts, and more to brighten.
Words to years, each chapter spun,
A story started, but never done.

The opening lines are soft and unsure,
Whispers of innocence, newness, and purity.
Blank spaces linger, waiting to fill,
With tales of wonder and the reader's will.

"You have known nothing," my mother would sigh
When I would read one line and let out a cry.
Then she would go on,
"Do keep your book with you, pressed.
You have no idea how immensely you are blessed."

"But do not re-read," my father would then add.
"Do not look back, aim straight ahead.
Although, do highlight and underline the important part,
For it will bring perception and passion in your heart."

Then the chapters will grow richer, lines unfold,
Ink spills, tales both brave and bold.
Twists and turns, both sharp and slow,
Each one written by hands that grow.

And as the cover begins to close,
The truth of this life clearly shows.
For this is life, the book you've penned,
Each year a chapter, until the very end.

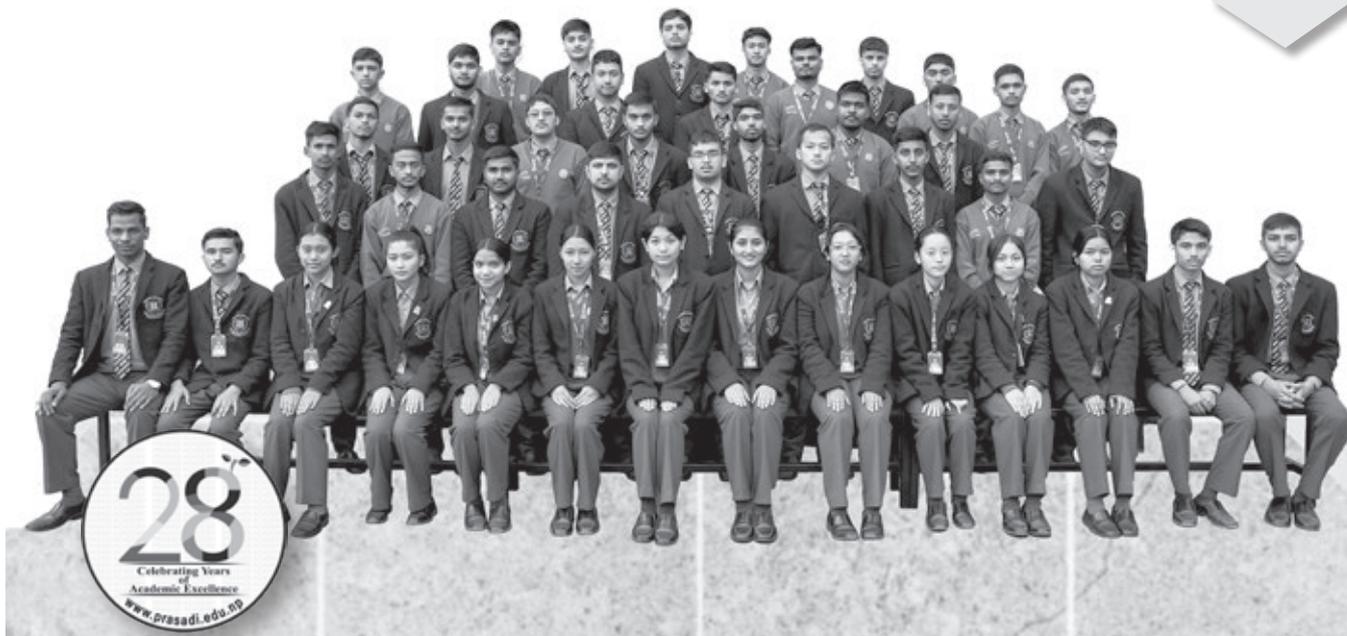

Chapter 17 is where I am in,
Somewhat understanding but mostly pretending.
But every line, both bright and grim,
Carries the echo of where I've been.

So, life is a book, its pages wide,
With secrets and stories tucked inside.
Chapters of love, loss, and gain,
Laughter, tears, sunshine, and rain.

Then, the reader? You, with heart in hand,
The author, too—your life, though unplanned.
So write with courage, read and dream with art,
For every page is your living heart.

Memories

Memories do come into sight of the moment I got the news,
Yes, the news I got, in the evening dew.

I realized I missed out on my presence when it was the time of your leave,
My words whisper how I did feel.
I wish I had then understood what siblings were meant for,

I wish you were here to hear what I am contemplating for.
I hear people begging their parents not to leave,

But I begged God, "Please don't empty my dearest seat."

The requests were all denied,
Though the efforts were undefined.

I still get asked, Sister, where is our friend?
How do I tell them your story has already come to an end?

Memories hidden in unclosed eyes of nights,
Tons of unsaid words are faking delight.

The words did shout someday, in this way,
You left uttering the greatest silence.

You left sleeping for eternity,
You left for infinity.

The crystals do not fall,
But yes, my soul does fly.

Festivals all pass by unfinished,
Weekends are all stale.

O my dear, where are you?
Reply, as a sister did I fail?

Your glance in my dreams—how is my sunrise?
Your glance in the gallery screens is all for me to take new flights.

Years passed and I don't have fights anymore,
You are not here to call out my name anymore.

But today,
Still smiling for you at the twinkling sky,
You still are my love in my eyes.

Psyche

The brain is a wayward creature,
Often collaborative in nature.

The more we collaborate, the better we become,
Explains the volume by Dayna Lorentz based on wisdom...

The flamboyance that runs around
Can annoy some while delighting others in the crowd,
But can never cause one's vigour to sink down.

It's not always possible to bring our thoughts to certainty,
Because we know our psyche is often unpredictable as a wild, untamed entity.

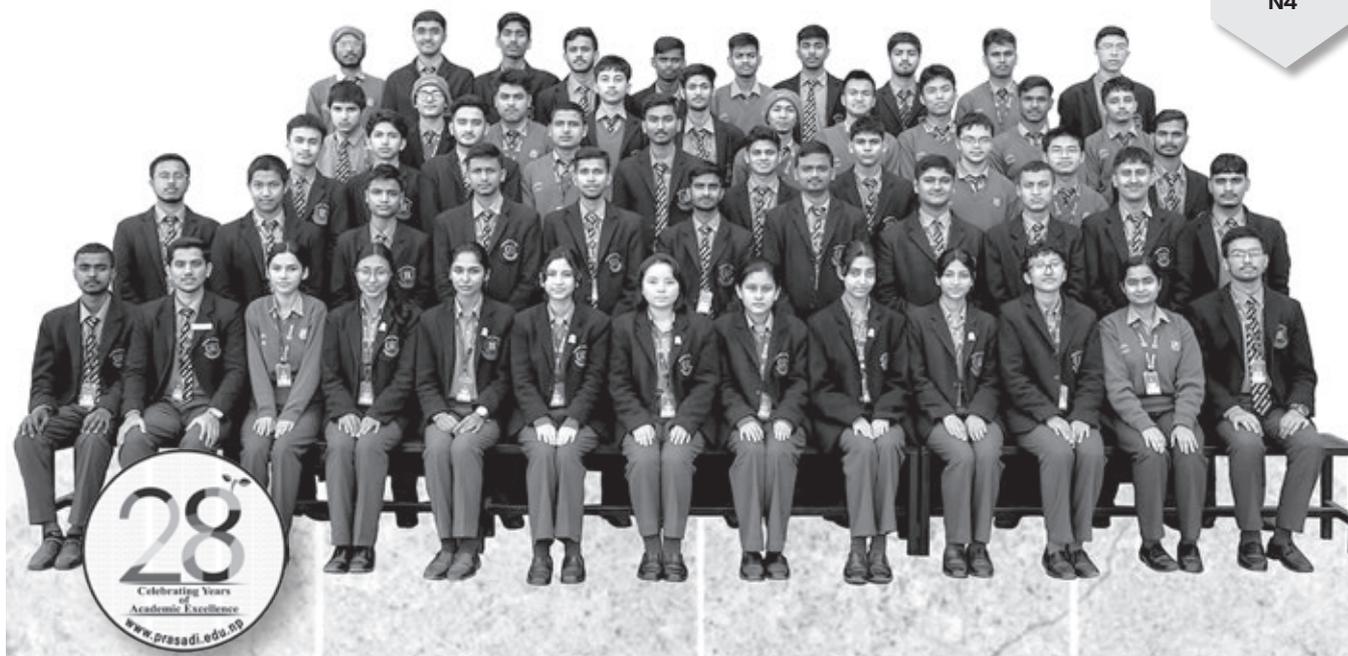

Coming to a conclusion isn't always the solution,
But letting one suspend judgement and think can prevent impulsive decisions.

The unpredictable and mysterious nature of the human mind,
Often because of its cognitive nature, it is of an adaptive kind.

The Strange Journey

Far from home, I reached this city new,
My future scribbled in joy's vibrant hue.

New faces, new streets—how heavy the cost,
Yet I vowed again to stay kind, not lost.

The new world's rules, like tangled thread,
Were hard to weave into the life I led.

Sweet words from home first tasted bitter,
Now echo in nights soft, yet sharper.

The greens I scorned on my plate before
Now haunt my dreams—I crave them more.

Father's hand, from his worn-out purse,
Would press warm coins to mine—no worse.

When the phone turns off, Mother frets, repeats:
"My son, my babu"—love's heartbeats.

New college clothes—my joy ran deep,
Yet a whisper rose: "Did your hands weep
As you gave this sum, so vast, so steep?"

On campus lawns, where new paths start,
I miss the games of ten years' heart.

"Be great!" I thought, books held the key,
Now letters walk, strange friends to me.

To Our Beloved Teacher

In maths, YP sir makes us laugh,
Jokes and numbers—what a craft!
While BPP sir, though stern in view,
Hides his love in lessons true.

RL sir brings energy bright,
His jokes and charm feel just right.
While CJ ma'am, so calm, so wise,
Guides us gently—no need for cries.

With a killer smile, URT sir stands,
And BW sir gives life's commands.
Nepali's more than words we see,
It's wisdom, strength, and poetry.

SBS sir dives deep and wide,
Chemistry's secrets he won't hide.

KP sir, our hero cool,
And BBP sir makes studies rule.

Physics shines in GT Sir cheer,
His hearty laugh we love to hear.
HMA's style is bold and grand,
While SKS notes help us stand.

To all our teachers, pure and true,
Shaping us in all we do.

Your lessons guide, your wisdom stays,
We "THANK YOU" now and all our days.

Message: "I bet you will be disciplined, punctual, and hardworking at the end of your session."

What is Prasadi Academy?

When it comes to “Prasadi Academy,” most people in Nepal recognize it as one of the leading institutions for +2 education, known for its disciplined, strict norms and ethical environment. If you are a Prasadian, you will certainly feel it from the very first day of your high school journey, as it instills its values and ethics deeply in you.

Prasadi Academy is home to the well-known slogan “Where Care is Culture.” You will find these words everywhere: on the school premises, on pamphlets, and even printed on your school uniform and bag. However, this slogan is not just for display—it truly reflects the nurturing environment you experience once you become a Prasadian.

Prasadi Academy is not just an academic institution. It is a temple of knowledge, like the house of Goddess Saraswati, where you not only gain academic education but also develop wisdom. The Academy actively works to help every Prasadian overcome immature thoughts and encourages you to think critically about various issues, their applications, and their impact. It prepares students—both mentally and physically—to face life’s challenges with confidence and resilience.

After completing my two-year academic journey at Prasadi Academy, I can confidently say that the rumors I had heard before joining were false. Many had said that the Academy creates immense mental stress and pressure with assignments and practicals, but I experienced none of that. In fact, I enjoyed every moment I spent at the Academy.

If I were asked by the Academy, "Did you ever feel stressed or pressured here?" My simple answer would be: No.

Instead, I found Prasadi Academy to be one of the most outstanding and remarkable academic institutions for +2 education. I would highly recommend every parent to "leave the rest and choose the best" by enrolling their child in Prasadi Academy, as it ensures a better and brighter career for the future.

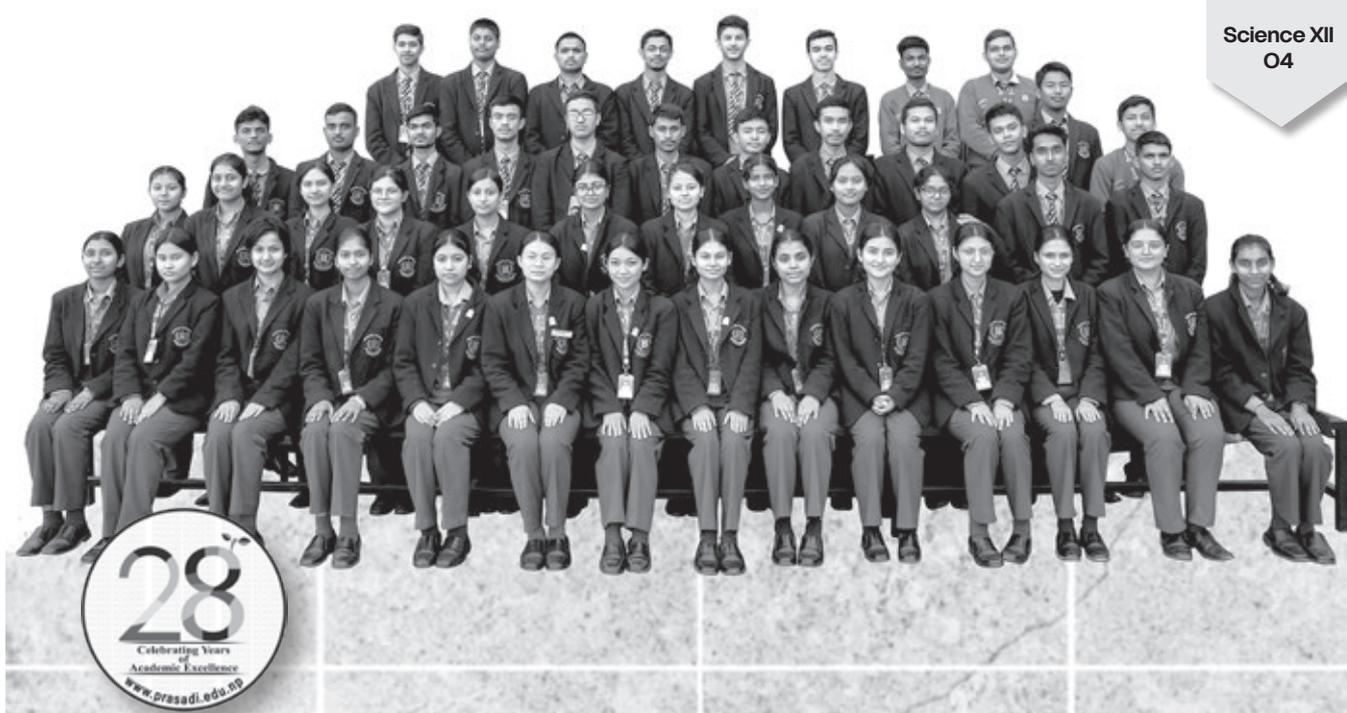

I would like to sincerely thank Prasadi Academy and the entire Prasadi family for their remarkable contribution, support, and guidance in building my career and shaping my thoughts about the future in a positive way.

A Memorable Singapore Tour

A Journey to Remember

Singapore, a dazzling city-state known for its modern architecture, diverse culture, and stunning attractions, proved to be the perfect destination for an enriching and unforgettable educational tour. Our five-day trip to this incredible place was filled with exciting experiences, guided by our dedicated teachers, Prabha Ma'am and Yonjan Ma'am, along with our knowledgeable tour agency guide, Suman Sir. The tour was worth every moment, offering us a blend of learning, adventure, and cultural exposure.

Day 1: Exploring the City

Our journey began with a city tour by bus, allowing us to admire Singapore's stunning skyline and well-planned streets. A major highlight was visiting the iconic Merlion statue, a famous symbol of Singapore. The statue's head represents the city's original name, Singapore (meaning "lion city" in Sanskrit), while its fish-like body symbolizes Singapore's origins as a fishing village. Later, we embarked on a cruise, enjoying breathtaking views of the city as it lit up beautifully in the evening. The lights reflecting off the tall buildings created a mesmerizing atmosphere. For lunch and dinner, we relished a delightful meal of naan, rice, curry, and pickle, which provided a relaxing end to an eventful day.

Day 2: Nature and Adventure

We started the second day with a visit to Gardens by the Bay, a futuristic park featuring impressive Supertrees and floral displays. Learning about this unique green space was truly fascinating. After that, we proceeded to Sentosa Island via Hello Kitty-themed cable cars—a paradise of entertainment and adventure. We had an amazing time exploring the attractions and relaxing by the beach. Throughout the day, we were treated to delicious Indian meals, making us feel at home even in a foreign land.

Day 3: Universal Studios – A Dream Come True

One of the most thrilling parts of our trip was visiting Universal Studios Singapore. This world-famous theme park offered an unforgettable experience with its exciting rides, themed zones, and live shows. From movie-inspired attractions to roller coasters, the park had something for everyone. We were given lunch coupons to enjoy a meal inside Universal Studios, and the day ended with a hearty dinner at a restaurant, wrapping up a day full of fun and excitement.

Day 4:

Departure and Reflections

On the final day, we had breakfast at the hotel before heading to Singapore Changi Airport for our departure. The airport itself was a marvel, and we took time to explore and appreciate its beauty. There were many luxury brand stores, all of which were duty-free, meaning we could buy things without paying taxes to the Singaporean government. We were lucky to arrive just as the artificial waterfall (Rain Vortex at Jewel Changi) started.

Memorable Takeaways

This tour was an unforgettable experience, one that will stay with us forever. Beyond the breathtaking sights and thrilling attractions, we learned a lot—from understanding different cultures to navigating a new country. Surprisingly, English was not as commonly spoken as we had expected, which pushed us to adapt and communicate in new ways. One of the most rewarding aspects was making friends with foreigners our age, creating connections that extended beyond borders.

One fascinating observation was the presence of grassy stripes in the middle of the roads. Our local Singaporean tour guide explained that these stripes, surrounded by barriers, serve as emergency lanes for ambulances during heavy traffic. The roadsides were lined with trees and plants, setting a perfect example of sustainable urban development.

Most Singaporeans live in apartment buildings because land ownership is extremely expensive. Additionally, private land can only be owned for 99 years. Owning a private four-wheeler is highly discouraged due to Singapore's limited space, and two-wheelers are uncommon because of frequent rain.

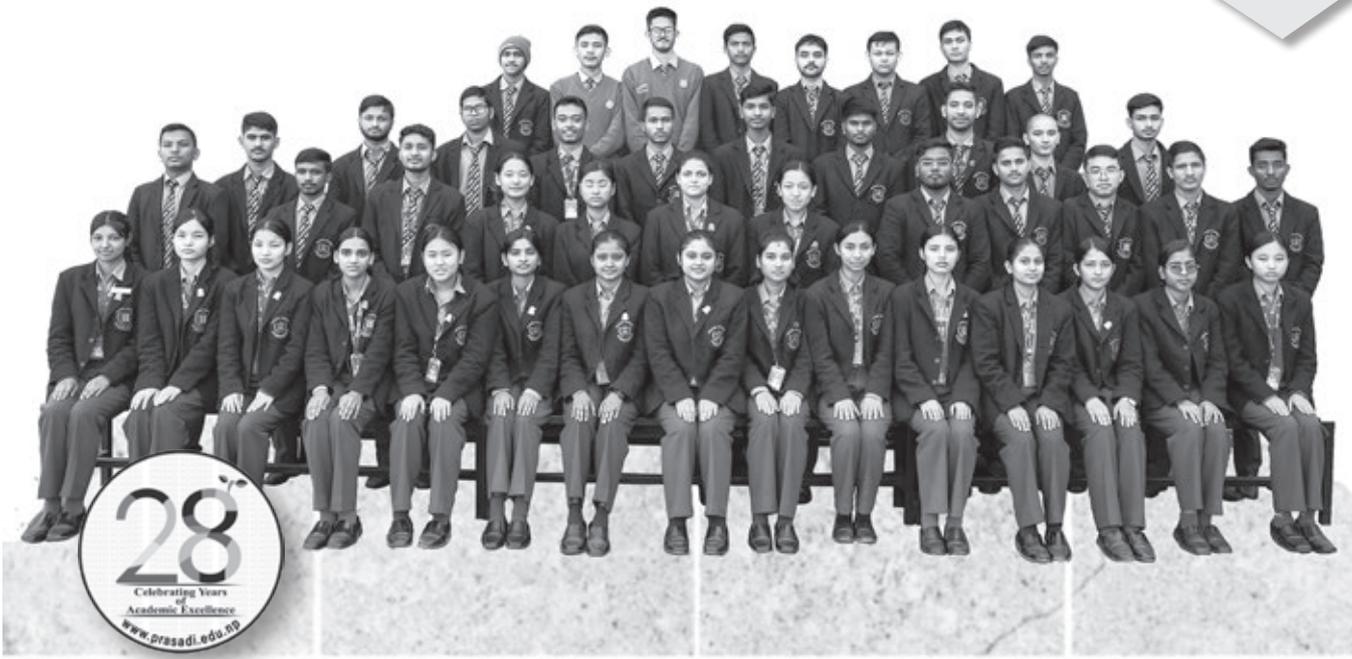

Singapore is so small that its capital is the country itself. The population consists of four major ethnic groups: Chinese (the majority), Malays, Indians, and others. At the time of our visit, 1 Singaporean dollar (SGD) was equivalent to 103 Nepali rupees (NPR).

Final Thoughts

This trip was truly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, and I highly encourage others to take part in such tours. Singapore offers a perfect mix of modernity, nature, and adventure, making it an ideal destination for students. Whether for its breathtaking skyline, thrilling theme parks, or cultural insights, a trip to Singapore is an experience not to be missed!

My High School Tale

Rooted in Effort, Rising with Purpose

As I look back on my high school journey, I'm filled with a whirlwind of emotions: gratitude, pride, and a deep sense of transformation. It was more than just classrooms and textbooks. It was about discovering my strengths, overcoming self-doubt, and growing into someone who dares to dream big.

When I first stepped into Prasadi, I was like any other student—unsure, nervous, and curious. But with time, I realized that growth doesn't happen in comfort zones. It happens in moments when you fail a test and decide to try harder next time. It happens when you choose to speak up in class, even when your voice trembles. And most importantly, it happens when you believe in yourself, even if no one else does at that moment.

Some journeys leave a lasting mark on the heart, and my time at Prasadi Academy is one such chapter. It was a blend of challenges, growth, and beautiful memories that shaped me in more ways than one. Among the highlights, being part of the Indira Voice Club and serving as a class representative was a meaningful experience that allowed me to contribute to school events and be involved in activities beyond academics. One of the most memorable events was Flowers' Day, when the entire atmosphere bloomed with smiles, shared kindness, joy, and laughter.

Prasadi wasn't just a school to me; it was a place that helped me grow with grace, build lasting friendships, and prepare for whatever lies ahead.

To all those reading this, I want you to know that you don't need to be the smartest in the room to succeed. What you need is the courage to keep going when things get tough, to ask questions when you're confused, and to rise every time you fall. Take your studies seriously, but don't forget to enjoy the journey. Make memories, build friendships, and appreciate your teachers. High school isn't just a phase—it's a foundation, and how you build it matters. Dream big, work hard, and trust the process.

Rise Like a Star

I was born to be a star.

When the night is dark and cold,
And your dreams seem far from bold,

Remember this, through every scar,
You're meant to rise like a star.

Though the winds may try to shake,
And the ground beneath may break,
Your light will shine, no matter how far,
You'll always rise like a star.

Through the storm and through the rain,
Through the loss, through the pain,

Your strength is endless, you'll go far,
For you were born to rise like a star.

So don't be afraid of the climb ahead,
The heights are yours, the path is spread.

Hold your head high and raise the bar,
For you were born to rise like a star.

Path of Self-Exploration at Prasadi Academy

From the moment I dreamed of joining Prasadi Academy while searching for the best high school in Lalitpur on Google, to this very moment as I stand on the verge of graduation, one thing is certain: dreams do come true. I still remember stepping into the high school on my first day, feeling proud to be a student of Nepal's 1st Rank National Educational Award winner.

Now, as I prepare to graduate, I realize how pivotal and unforgettable this journey has been. Prasadi has truly been a game-changer in my life, helping me rise above my insecurities and lack of confidence. Small yet meaningful recognitions, like being named Student of the Month, constantly motivated me to strive for betterment.

These two years at Prasadi Academy have given me more than just academic knowledge; they have instilled valuable life skills such as discipline, punctuality, and time management that will carry forward with me every step of the way. I have no words to express my gratitude to all the teachers who have lit the light within us.

I also hold deep appreciation for the security guards who greeted me every day with a warm smile. Above all, I will forever cherish the memories I made with my benchmates. This academy has helped me explore my inner self and become the best version of myself. The efforts and hard work of respected Bikram Rai Sir and the management team in making this place so holy and tranquil are truly laudable. I will forever feel honored that my name is associated with Prasadi Academy.

Memories: Let students travel from home 'H' to Prasadi 'P' daily at 11:30 sharp, facing struggles as function of time 't'. Let 'W' be homework done at home & school. Then,

$$\int_H^P f(t) dt = \int_H^P N \cdot W^{1/3} dt = \left[\frac{3 \cdot N \cdot W^{4/3}}{4} \right]_H^P$$

$$= \frac{3 \cdot N}{4} (P^{4/3} - H^{4/3})$$ from Prasadi's law of core and culture for 2 years, we have,

$$= \frac{2 \cdot N}{4} \times 4 = N3$$

∴ By integrating struggle we got was N3.

Transferring to the day shift in Grade 12 gave me the best of both worlds. I still remember my first day of high school, waking up at 4am and rushing to school, only to see how much things changed by Grade 12. Prasadi taught me punctuality, time management and hard work. As an executive member of IVC, I had opportunities to host events, make friends, and take on responsibilities. The support from nurse maam and Prabha maam was invaluable. The school picnic was a highlight filled with laughter and a well-deserved break. Looking back, I'm grateful for everything every moment.

 Memories: Good times and wonderful friends make unforgetable memories. though it was short time in prasadi it was full of memories. Section N3 is not just a classroom it is a family. It's an emotion that connects us beyond textbooks and exams, shaping us into who we are today. I gonna miss my bench partners, stupid jokes, nonsense talks during the class and especially, the in some dance we had at picnic. Creating unforgetable memories in every corner of the high school. N3 is a place where we belong. long after we leave these walls, sec N3 will always remain in our hearts, an emotion that time can never fade.

 My college Memory at Prasadi

Being an extrovert, making friends has always come naturally to me. Every day, as I entered through the gates of Prasadi, I felt like I was stepping into a new adventure. My friends & teachers have been a memorable part of my life, and I'm sure I've given them many wonderful memories. I deeply respect every teacher's unique way of teaching, as I've learned invaluable lessons from them, especially the importance of punctuality & discipline, which were the very reasons my parents chose this for me. At first, Prasadi felt a bit diff from my expectations, but over time, I adapted & embraced the experience. I've enjoyed every moment here, & the long lasting memories I've created with my friends & teachers will always stay with me.

Message: Make the most of your time at Prasadi, learn, grow, & create memories. Respect your teachers, stay disciplined & cherish your friendships, work hard, dream big, & enjoy every moment!

Inmate 13224 has been released. As I awaited to end my journey, I was struck by a sense of wonder realizing that everyone around me was writing their own story. From unexpected bag and hygiene checking, LC room to being sent home, the wonderful journey, from 301 to 208 which feels like apricity as I look back into the memories of giggles, singing, talking, uncontrolled -ie laughs & shouts among some great folks, kind and guiding seniors and teachers has come to an end which had provided friendly environment for my study & exams

MESSAGE:

One's illusion can be other's reality. The inception of great ideas requires a spark of creativity and willingness to explore.

When I first entered college, it felt like I had just signed up for boot camp rules, rules and more rules. The morning chaos became part of my life though the Gwarkhu jam still had me praching my "sorry, I am late speech". At Sir's scolding were like a daily worm-up. But at the end, collage taught me that every second counts. By the end, I didn't want to leave what one felt like prison, now felt like home, full of memories

Message: Hey junior, it might feel overwhelming at first with all rules and deadlines, but you'll never regret joining. The journey might be tough but it shaped you into someone stronger.

 Prasad was a feeling, a quite reminder that isn't the walls but the company that made me love it all. The laughter from some jokes, the comfort of my incredible deskmate, and the bonds I formed with friends both near and far became my safe haven.

IVC painted my days with purpose from flowers clay to the poetry festival, each memory bloomed within me.

And the picnic? It felt like sunshine & freedom, a day where time stood still. The guidance of Bishu and his infectious energy lit up our days filling every moment with fun and heartfelt laughter.

The two years I spent in Prasadi went on a blink even though leaving a lot of beautiful memories in my heart which can never be forgotten. I will miss my benchmates, friends who used to laugh very loudly in every period and the sleepless night which I spent on doing my homeworks to submit on time.
Similarly, I will miss GT sir scolding for coming late in collage, URT sir smiling face, RKS sir paper while teaching magnetism, BPP sir's death glare to the class when no one knows the definition, SSA mam sweet nature, AKK sir and BPS sir english pronunciations, G S sir funny jokes last but not the least, BPP sir motivating us to study well and our favourite teacher SH sir always asking reactions and his unique teaching style.
